JASPER COUNTY, INDIANA

Jasper County was opened to the white settlers in 1832; however there was not much immigration at that time. The first actual white settler in Jasper County was William Donahoo, who came to Gillam Township in 1832. In the fall of 1836 Joseph D. Yeoman, with the help of his father-in-law, David Nowels, erected the first white cabin in Rensselaer.

There are fifty-two known cemeteries in Jasper County. A few private cemeteries have been plowed under and no tombstones remain to tell the history of the early pioneers. Barkley Township has the largest number of cemeteries; ten which include four private burial grounds. Barkley Township had very fertile land. For this reason it was more thickly populated in the early days than the other townships.

1446561

The cemeteries reflect the customs of the people. The New Englanders invariably buried beside the church. If there was no church, the Southerners buried on their own plantation. This characteristic applies to Jasper County. Most of the people of southern origin had little private cemeteries on their own farm as the Rees, Henkle, and others. Then we have the New England trend; the cemetery beside the church as Barkley and Independence.

The earliest known tombstone in Jasper County is that of David Fried, who died May 23, 1819 and is buried in Smith Cemetery, Barkley Township. David, the son of J. C. and N. A. Coons who died Sept. 30, 1826 is also buried in Smith Cemetery. The next known tombstone is that of William Cockerel who died December 1, 1837 and is buried in the Sayler Cemetery, Newton Township. Then comes the tombstone of Angeline McJimsey who died January 6, 1840 and is buried in the Robinson Cemetery in Gillam Township. From 1840 on the dates on the tombstones in the different early cemeteries vary but few years.

CARPENTER TOWNSHIP

ALTERS CEMETERY

This cemetery is located 1 mile north and 3 miles west of Remington, on the Alters farm. The first burials were two travelling men who died in the severe winter of 1849. On account of the heavy snow and ice their bodies could not be moved and were buried in what is now the Alters's Family Cemetery on the Alters farm. Joseph Alter who died Oct. 16, 1850 is the first one of the Alters's family to be buried here. The cemetery was used just by the members and friends of the Alters family. The cemetery is fenced and well kept. Several tombstones have fallen.
 It is not used for burial now.

CARPENTER TOWNSHIP

FOUNTAIN CEMETERY

It is located 1 mile north of State Route 24 and 1/2 mile west of State Route 33, near the new well at Fountain Park. Only one tombstone remains in this small cemetery. Tradition is that this was a baby of a gypsy passing through.

CARPENTER TOWNSHIP

REMINGTON CEMETERY

This cemetery is located on the south side of Remington. Elizabeth C. Porter who died 1858, is the first one to be buried here. The large beautiful trees in the cemetery have caused moss to be formed on many of the tombstones, making them hard to read. Some tombstones could not be read. Many footstones did not have a last name on them. It was hard to tell to which large marker they belonged. The cemetery is plotted and in good condition. It is still used for burial.

CARPENTER TOWNSHIP
SACRED HEART CEMETERY

This is a Catholic Cemetery located 1/2 mile north of State Route 44 and 1/2 mile west of State Route 83. Freddie Schuster who died Jan. 13, 1891 was first to be buried here. Cemetery is in good condition and is still being used for burials. Many small markers have just first names on them and are hard to tell to which headstone they belong. A few markers, although they are not old, are very difficult to read.

GILLAM TOWNSHIP

INDEPENDENCE CEMETERY

This old large cemetery is located 10-1/4 miles east of State Route 53 on State Route 14 and 3 miles north, in the s. e. -quar. of n. e. quar. sec. 11, Township 30, Range 5 west. The road divides the cemetery. The Independence Church stands on the east side of the cemetery. Nancy Lane, daughter of John and Elizabeth Lane, who died Nov. 18, 1847, was the first one to be buried here. The Independence Methodist Episcopal Church of Gillam was founded May or June 1833 at the cabin of John M. Gillam. Their first meeting house was built in 1849 at the present site of Independence Church. The land near the church was already being used for a cemetery. The cemetery was plotted Oct. 30, 1900, when John Paris, Elmer Fullins, and George Logan were Trustees. The cemetery grounds are in poor condition. It is still used for burial.

JORDAN TOWNSHIP

WELSH CEMETERY

This cemetery is located 2-1/2 miles west of State Route 53, 1/4 mile south of State Route 16, on the west side of the road in Sec. 22, Township 28, north Range 7 west. Mary Welsh who died Aug. 15, 1841 is the first one to be buried here. Benjamin Welsh gave the land for this cemetery. It was called Egypt Cemetery at that time. There was a dense forrest in this part of Jordan Township. This section of the country was supposed to be "dark as Egypt." In later years it was renamed Welsh Cemetery. Frank Welsh, Marcus Reed and Daniel Waymire were trustees when it was plotted October 25, 1902. It was replotted October 9, 1943, when John W. Sage was President and Daniel Waymire was Treasurer of the Board of Trustees. It is in good condition and is still used for burials.

MARION TOWNSHIP
CROCKETT CEMETERY

This cemetery is located 4 miles east of State Route 53 and 3 miles south on State Route 114, on the north side of the road in north west quarter section 2, Twp., 23, Range 6. James Cox who died Sept. 4, 1842, was the first one to be buried here. At first there were a few graves on the Crockett land across the road from the present cemetery. Then Charles W. Watson gave land on the corner directly across from the Crockett farm. The few graves were moved into the new cemetery. The majority of people buried here were Babcocks, Daughertys, and their descendants. The cemetery is fenced and in fair condition. Burials are infrequent today.

NEWTON TOWNSHIP

NEIGHBORHOOD CEMETERY

This old neighborhood cemetery is located in a knoll on the old Jared Penikese farm, which is now part of the estate on the farm where Bradford Poble now lives. Formerly there was a large woods around this cemetery. Old settlers tell of seeing the tombstones of the children of David and Phebe Benjamin Nevils, one or two Yeoman babies, Martins and a Pierce girl who died when she was 16.

NEWTON TOWNSHIP
BLUE GRASS CEMETERY

This abandoned cemetery is located on the north side of the road on the Hoscoe Halsted farm in the n. e. cor. n. w. quar. sec. 18, Twp. 29, Range 7. This was formerly called the Blue Grass Settlement. The blue grass in this neighborhood gave the distinctive name to this community. The earliest tombstone now standing in this cemetery is Sarah Elizabeth Long who died June 18, 1851. According to an Atlas published 1878, the first burial in Jasper Co. was Mrs. Herbert Owens, but this tombstone could not be found. Only a few tombstones remain in this two acre cemetery. These are hard to read. The cemetery is not fenced and is in very poor condition. The heavy growth of shrubs and trees makes this cemetery inaccessible. Micah B. Halsted bought this land where this cemetery lies in 1865. This cemetery has not been used for burial since 1880.

WALKER TOWNSHIP

HERSHMAN CEMETERY

This cemetery is located 7-1/2 miles east of State Route 53, 5 miles south of Route 10, on the north west corner. In 1856 John Louis Hershman gave one acre to the community for a cemetery. The first trustees, appointed some time later, were John L. Hershman, George Stalbaum, and Jessie Osborne. This was a burial ground just for the relatives and friends of John L. Hershman. James S. Hershman who died April 16, 1859 was the first one to be buried here. The cemetery is fenced but is in very bad condition. The grass and weeds are almost as high as the tombstones. The tombstones are crumbling and hard to read. Burials are very infrequent today. The present trustees are Walter Hershman, William Stalbaum, and Wm. H. Hershman.
